

Father, Son and Holy Spirit, I stand before You.

Today is a new day and I am a new creation through Christ Jesus. I choose to follow You, while You empower me to turn away from the sinfulness of this world. I surrender my life including my dreams & ambitions, my feelings & emotions, my time & energy, to You afresh this day. I know as I follow You today, You will put a spring in my step, and fresh joy in my heart.

Give me Divine appointments where I can share Your Gospel and shine Your light into this hurting world. I remember that although most people won't read a Bible today, I have the opportunity to show them Your love in a real and tangible way through my life.

Help me to live up to that responsibility as I go today. Amen!
